Our Visions and Values

Across our academy schools we share a set of values that drive our everyday work with the children who attend our schools. Despite differences in the 'socio economic make up' of our schools, their different histories and the very different communities they serve, we all work to a common set of beliefs, expectations and standards. By doing so, we believe that children who attend any of our schools will achieve far more than they ever thought possible in an environment where they will flourish as individuals.

There are three types of achievement we strongly value:

Academic Achievement:

All those working in our academy believe that every single child has the potential to achieve great things and that whatever a child's background, by teaching them to the best of our ability and through individualised support, they will achieve at an outstanding level.

We believe that we should equip our children with a sense that almost anything is possible, based on a sense of their own well developed self-awareness and ambition for themselves and their community.

Celebrating Achievement:

Our children achieve incredible things each day, not only at school, but also outside of our schools curriculum. We believe that our children 'should let their light shine' and that our responsibility is to ensure that each of them develops their own talents and interests.

We believe that children should develop pride in their individual achievements and that we should work hard to recognise these achievements and celebrate them widely.

Relationship Achievement:

We believe that our children will only achieve in learning environments where relationships are strong. High quality relationships and mutual respect between children and all other members of the community results in learning which is exciting, yet disciplined, and where the highest expectations are the norm.

Our staff share our academies values and vision. They understand their crucial role in the education of all of our children and how their own individual work has a direct influence on young peoples 'life chances'. They are also 'team players' who have a clear understanding of our schools wider priorities, yet also work together to improve their own practice and the outcomes for all of our children.

BASE

BASE stands for Brilliant Additional School Experiences.

This week we have launched our BASE activities with a wider range of clubs than ever before.

I have seen the children enjoying Lego club, mindfulness, fun with figures, jazz hands and forest schools to name but a few. These additional activities have only been made possible due to the dedication of our staff who have volunteered their own time to plan and deliver a weekly club. I am so pleased to see our children making the most of these additional experiences.
