24th April 2020

Reminder: Follow our Facebook and Twitter pages for all up to date information.

This week has seen us returning to the pattern we established before the Easter holidays. Children at home and those in school have been completing the tasks set by their teachers on Eschools. It has been lovely to see the children interacting with each other on discussion pages and maintaining connections with their friends.

Senior staff have been making their phonecalls checking that everyone in the community is well and sorting out any issues people may have relating to school

Thanks to everyone for your positivity and support. It is greatly appreciated by us all.

Stay safe

Mrs Cross :o)

Home learning websites:

Whilst class teachers are setting a bespoke programme of work based on their expert knowledge of your child, a couple of new initiatives launched this week that I thought I would make you aware of if you wanted extra work for your child to complete.

BBC Bitesize launched this week with daily lessons being shared online. If you want to extend your learning this is an excellent resource.

Oak National Academy is a government backed scheme that is providing daily online lessons prepared and delivered by qualified teachers. School staff may direct you to specific lessons but the resource is there if you want to supplement what your class teacher is setting.
